

Words for: What do I spy with my little eye ?

ant

bag

belt

cat

cup

egg

fan

hat

hill

kiss

kit

lips

*To read, or decode, the printed words, finger-track under the letters from left to right, whilst saying the sounds. Blend the sounds to 'hear', or discern, the words.

You can cut out these words to match with the pictures.

Please note: To decode 'double consonant letters', say only one sound (e.g. For 'kiss', sound out only one /s/, that is: /k/ /i/ /s/).

Words for: What do I spy with my little eye ?

milk

nest

net

nuts

pan

pen

pins

rat

rip

skip

tent

tin

*To read, or decode, the printed words, finger-track under the letters from left to right, whilst saying the sounds. Blend the sounds to 'hear', or discern, the words.

You can cut out these words to match with the pictures.

Please note: To decode 'double consonant letters', say only one sound (e.g. For 'kiss', sound out only one /s/, that is: /k/ /i/ /s/).

Words for: What do I spy with my little eye ?

crab

bed

cliff

dig

bat

dolls

golf

flag

dress

jam

jet

jug

*To read, or decode, the printed words, finger-track under the letters from left to right, whilst saying the sounds. Blend the sounds to 'hear', or discern, the words.

You can cut out these words to match with the pictures.

Please note: To decode 'double consonant letters', say only one sound (e.g. For 'dolls', sound out only one /l/, that is: /d/ /o/ /l/ /s/).

Words for: What do I spy with my little eye ?

lamp

log

map

pegs

run

swim

yak

jazz

wigs

zip

fox

web

*To read, or decode, the printed words, finger-track under the letters from left to right, whilst saying the sounds. Blend the sounds to 'hear', or discern, the words.

You can cut out these words to match with the pictures.

Please note: To decode 'double consonant letters', say only one sound (e.g. For 'jazz', sound out only one /z/, that is: /j/ /a/ /z/).

Words for: What do I spy with my little eye ?

quilt

box

drill

film

band

mat

rabbit

sun

van

mud

pets

Gran

*To read, or decode, the printed words, finger-track under the letters from left to right, whilst saying the sounds. Blend the sounds to 'hear', or discern, the words.

You can cut out these words to match with the pictures.

Please note: To decode 'double consonant letters', say only one sound (e.g. For 'drill', sound out only one /l/, that is: /d/ /r/ /i/ /l/). For 'quilt', say /kw/ /i/ /l/ /t/.